Positive Tourism in Africa -Kirk Plangger 2015-10-20 This volume explores the many facets of tourism in Africa, such as community-based tourism, wildlife tourism, tourism governance and leadership, crises recovery, regional tourism, and the role of indigenous knowledge and smart technologies. It acknowledges the challenges and opportunities for tourism in various contexts and explores how tourism creates value for the sustainability of its participants. Including a wide selection of contributions from diverse authors, many of them African, this book offers an Afro-centric interpretation of tourism phenomena. It will be of great interest to students, researchers and consultants in the field of Tourism and African Studies, as well as development studies and geography.

Handbook of Research Methods in Health Social Sciences -Pranee Liamputtong 2019-02-25 Research is defined by the Australian Research Council as “the creation of new knowledge or the use of existing knowledge as a tool or a method in order to construct new concepts, methodologies, discoveries and technologies.” Research is thus the foundation for knowledge. It produces evidence and informs actions that can provide wider benefit to a society. The knowledge produced by research may be used to inform policies and programs, or for the development of new products, processes, services, or technologies. This Handbook acknowledges the diversity and richness of research methods in the health and social sciences. It will benefit postgraduate students who wish to undertake research in cross-cultural settings, with special groups of people, as it provides essential knowledge not only on the methods of data collection but also salient issues that they need to know if they wish to succeed in their research endeavors.

Fear Me -Tim Curran 2017-08-19 Shaddock Valley. A maximum security prison that houses the worst of the worst: drug gangs, psychopaths, rapists, gangsters, and outlaw bikers. In a place like that, a skinny little kid like Danny Palmquist doesn’t stand a chance. It doesn’t take long before the hardtimers move in on him. Then they begin to die horribly. In locked cells. When the lights go out at Shaddock Valley, the nightmare begins. When Danny Palmquist goes to sleep, something else wakes up. Something primal. Something bloodthirsty. And if you mess with Danny Palmquist, it will find you. And in the darkness, nothing can save you.

Family Nursing -M. Foxhiem 2010-09-17 Written for undergraduate/graduate courses in community & family nursing, this popular text teaches a holistic, philosophical approach. The student is guided through provided exercises & scenarios of breakdowns, reality-based applications, case studies, scenarios, & updated decisions, assessment, & nursing diagnoses.

Writing Studies Research in Practice -Kirk Plangger 2012-09-18 An essential reference for students and scholars requiring the methods and methodologies of writing research. What does it mean to research writing? What are the practical and theoretical issues researchers often address when researching writing? What are the places of calculations of particular methods, and what might remain for experimentation? These questions and more are answered by the writing research book’s leading editors, Writing Studies Research in Practice—Methods and Methodologies. Editors Kirk Plangger and Nicholas Goller invite scholars from leading institutions in writing research to space three short sections for each chapter, concentrating on the need for research to be as representational as it is accountable. An essential reference for experienced researchers and an invaluable text to help express necessary research methods and methodologies. Writing Studies Research—Methods and Methodologies contains established methods and knowledge while addressing the contemporary issues, trends, and concerns faced by writing researchers today.

Thriving in a New World Economy -Kirk Plangger 2010-10-20 This volume includes the full proceedings from the 2009 World Marketing Congress and Cultural Perspectives on Marketing Towards a New World Economy. The focus of the proceedings is the evolving nature and emergent concepts of global marketing thought, issues and practices. This volume presents papers on various topics including marketing management, marketing strategy, and consumer behavior. Plangger, Kirk, and Ong, Michael (eds.). (2010). The focus of this proceedings volume is on international perspectives in marketing thought, issues and practices. The book is divided into three main sections: Marketing management; Marketing strategy; and Consumer Behavior. It is a valuable resource for students and researchers in the field of marketing.

Positive Tourism in Africa -Kirk Plangger 2015-10-20 Positive Tourism in Africa offers a nuanced approach to tourism in Africa which acknowledges the many challenges faced by African countries. It begins with an introduction to tourism in Africa and examines the various cultural, historical, economic, and political factors that shape tourism development. The volume explores themes such as community-based tourism, wildlife tourism, tourism governance and leadership, crises recovery, regional integration, the role of indigenous knowledge, event tourism and the impact of smart technologies. It acknowledges the challenges and opportunities for growth that exist in these various contexts and explores how tourism creates value for the sustainability of its participants. Including a wide selection of contributions from diverse authors, many of them African, this book offers an Afro-centric interpretation of tourism phenomena. It will be of great interest to students, researchers and consultants in the field of Tourism and African Studies, as well as development studies and geography.