The few, if not non-existent, possibilities of the states to provide for the basic needs of their subjects, a situation that has become painfully evident in most African states not only the Muslim ones. However, public as well as private provision of social welfare is not a new phenomenon in the Muslim world. "This book deals with a most important and previously largely overlooked theme. In the current situation, when economically weak African states have great problems providing social amenities for their people, the welfare activities of Islamic -- and other -- non-governmental organisations have become especially important. This book provides a number of theoretically rich, in particular, empirically interesting and valuable discussions on various kinds of Muslim social welfare in a number of African countries." -- David Westerlund, Associate Professor, Faculty of Theology, Uppsala University, Sweden

The Principles of Islamic Political Economy
Masudul Alam Choudhury 2016-07-27 This book examines the methodological development of the principles of Islamic political economy in its theoretical and applied aspects. This is carried out in a general equilibrium framework using the theory of social choice. Thus a comparative study is undertaken here to trace some ideas developing the theory of Islamic political economy. In these respects this book appears to be the first of its kind.

Frontiers and Mechanics of Islamic Economics: 1988

The Contemporary Islamic Revival - Director of the Center for Muslim-Christian Understanding John L. Esposito 1991 This volume provides an introduction to the basic themes of the contemporary Islamic resurgence and a key to the scholarly literature about the current Islamic revival. It offers a starting point for the study of the Islamic revival in any place as well as a methodological base for the study of major revival experiences, such as the Islamic Revival. This literature documented is not only limited in a narrow sense to the Middle East or the Central Islamic lands. Coverage extends to the study of Muslims throughout the globe.
